Good job DesignCyclone for designing our website.

DesignCyclone has done a wonderful job in designing a website for our nonprofit organization. Your work is very professional and attractive. The people visiting our website have written to us saying that it is a great website. Your customer service representative, by name TonyV took a lot of time to walk us through the process. Tony was very patient and understanding. Being a new organization, we didn't know exactly what we wanted and how it should appear on the website. Tony patiently waited for pieces of information which sent in bits by bits. Thank you Tony for honoring our agreement despite the much time you put into our work. We are glad to recommend you to others who may want such services.
